

ATM Solutions for Financial Institutions

Banks and credit unions put their customers/members first at every turn.

We do, too.

In a demanding ATM market, banks and credit unions need a customer-centric provider. When you purchase an ATM from Cummins Allison, you'll work with a dedicated ATM integration team that provides a consistent, timely implementation experience at the customer site. This approach differentiates us from many providers.

Service like service should be – extraordinary

Service is the hallmark of our business. Led by experts with many years in the industry, our dedicated ATM business unit reacts quickly to your needs and gets your new ATMs up and running quickly. Personalized training is provided at no additional cost to ensure that your employees feel comfortable working with our ATMs.

And, to keep your ATMs up and running, we back our portfolio with fast, reliable, comprehensive service. Cummins Allison has 43 local offices and more than 480 highly-trained service professionals in its extensive direct-distribution network. When your equipment needs attention, we stand ready and able to get the work done right on the first call.

Why choose Cummins Allison?

Privately held for more than 127 years, Cummins Allison has earned a stellar reputation for its commitment to providing complete customer satisfaction. Our nationwide network of highly-skilled and knowledgeable sales and service professionals have helped thousands of FIs make the most of their resources. As the market leader in currency, coin and deposit processing solutions, we can help you improve efficiency, reduce cost and streamline your branch operations.

“Cummins Allison made our business its first priority. Their consultative approach took into account our current and future needs to ensure we were implementing the best solution to meet our needs today, and into the future.”

A complete portfolio of secure and reliable ATMs

Reliable performance, easy to operate, improved customer service and affordability

The role of the ATM is growing in today's evolving banking landscape. That's especially true for small to mid-size banks and credit unions as you consider branch transformation in preparation for the high-tech banking future. We offer a full-line of ATM solutions that have the right balance of features and capabilities, with a robust roadmap for ongoing development.

Cummins Allison ATMs meet all your customer service, operational and regulatory needs. All models are ADA and PCI compliant and are EMV-ready. Equally important, they offer exceptional affordability to help you meet your present and future budget goals.

From free-standing lobby unit to island drive-up, from cash dispense to automated deposit, we have the ATMs you need at a price you can afford.

“The personal attention received was excellent. Our ATM was up and running on schedule and I knew exactly what was going on every step of the way. The product I received is exactly what I expected.”

Josephine Savino, chief executive officer
Healthcare Financial Federal Credit Union

Cash and Automated Deposit ATMs

H48ND Island Drive-up

Extend your banking channels with the H48ND. Highly secure, easy-to-use large color display and entirely self-contained, this island-style ATM excels as an automated branch in your drive-through lanes.

The H48ND offers an automated deposit module option for accepting cash and checks in a single slot on the machine. Customers/members complete their transactions twice as fast as traditional deposits, when and where they want. Buy what you need today and upgrade with new features as you need them.

H34N Series

Provide choice and convenience to patrons with the H34N series in walk-up, drive-up or lobby options. Capabilities include cash withdrawals and a choice between envelope deposit or automated deposit options.

Take advantage of a wide range of powerful, value-added services and a modular design that facilitates future upgrades (availability may depend on the host processor). Stores up to 12,000 notes in up to 4 cassettes. Fast, reliable deposit transactions and secure 24/7 service where customers/members need it.

Simplify the process of depositing and processing cash and checks via your ATM

Providing different ways to deposit cash and checks is an asset for both customers, members and branch personnel. The Cummins Allison Automated Deposit Module (ADM) is available on the H48 and H34 series. ADM benefits include:

- Improve customer/member service and reduce cost: Migrate deposit processing away from teller line, while driving cost out of branch operations.
- Simplify deposit process: Single receptacle accepts up to 100 bills or 50 checks at one time, the largest capacity in the industry.
- User-friendly interface: Leads customers/members through the entire transaction, providing instant verification of their deposit. Customers/members leave with a receipt displaying images of the checks and a detailed count of the cash deposited.

Cash Dispense ATMs

H22N Series

Small-footprint dispense-only models for walk up, drive-up and lobby applications let you round out your ATM channel strategy. The H22N series delivers high-performance bundle-cash dispensing, solid security and maximum availability in a variety of limited-space environments. Attractive, affordable, reliable and easy-to-use machines enable fast, convenient transactions.

E300L

Achieve high visibility for your brand with low cost of ownership. The E300L gives you the flexibility to extend your ATM channel beyond the branch. It's attractive, slim-line design is easy to install and allows for cash-dispensing in a multitude of spaces. Storing up to 6,000 notes in up to 3 cassettes, the E300L is a great option for virtually any lobby environment.

- Reliable high-quality equipment
- World-class service and support
- Efficient installation process
- Local presence you can count on
- Managed and professional services

“If you have an ATM that’s having issues, it’s worth looking into the Cummins Allison product for the price and maintenance contract. It’s phenomenal.”

Lisa Vick, vice president of operations
Citizens First State Bank
